

British Cavalry Reach "Hindenburg Line"

Following Up Success Of Previous Day They Take Two More Towns

Further Gains by British Over Germans Northwest of St. Quentin
And by Germans Over French in Champagne Region of France
Are Recorded in Latest British and French Official Communications.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

LONDON, March 28.—British cavalry today, following up the success of yesterday, captured the villages of Villers-Faucon and Saulcourt, north of Roisel, and also to the north of this region took from the Germans at two points on the Boisnes-Lagencourt road, and south of the town of Condé, according to the official communication issued tonight. Thus captured points made the St. Quentin-Cambrai road, which is a portion of the "Hindenburg line."

GERMAN SUCCESSES.

PARIS, March 28.—Heavy artillery fighting between the French and Germans took place today on the Escaut-Bapaume front. The Germans delivered a strong attack in the Champagne region, gaining a foothold in the French first line, but, according to the official communication issued tonight by the French war office, all their attempts against Maisons de Champagne were defeated with sanguinary losses.

JUNCTION IN MESOPOTAMIA.

LONDON, March 27.—A junction between British and Russian forces closing in on the fleeing Turks seems apparently nearer since the Russian troops have crossed the border from Persia into the Turkish village of Mosul. It is expected that cavalry detachments making their way from the British side will meet the Russian force in an area which tradition represents to be the site of the Garden of Eden, just over the Persian border to the northeast of Baghdad. The British are now advancing up the Tigris from Baghdad toward the Mosul district.

HUNS EVACUATE ALSACE.

LONDON, March 28.—The Daily News' Rotterdam correspondent says: "Percy reports are being received from Switzerland that the Germans are evacuating Mulhouse and other places in Alsace. The Zurich correspondent of the Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant says information has reached Zurich that the Germans have been busy for some days on this operation. Many of these have left Mulhouse and machinery has been taken away from factories.

EQUANCOURT WAS TAKEN BY SINGLE SQUADRON OF CAVALRY

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

LONDON, Mar. 28.—Summarizing the progress of the British operations in the north, the Reuters correspondent at British headquarters in Paris says: "Equancourt, the two villages of Equancourt and Villers-Faucon, were captured by a single squadron of cavalry in order with lances lowered were within seven hundred yards of its objective. The Germans, who were fleeing away from their arms and often scattering, were stampeded at the British line. In the present phase of the conflict, the French line, but rather a succession of posts was entered without opposition."

and patrols still in touch with each other, but varying their movements from time to time as opportunity offers.

M'BRIDE WILL BE DISMISSED IT IS REPORTED

Late Premier To Be Ousted From Job to Which He Appointed Himself

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

VICTORIA, March 28.—It is understood, on what appears to be excellent authority, that Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia in London, has been dismissed from his post.

The bill amending the game act ready on the ground will be appointed to act in the meantime, or until a permanent minister is appointed to the post.

McBride's appointment was decided upon by the government, which probably looks forward to the arrival of the new British Columbia building in June.

It will be remembered that before vacating the premiership in favour of Sir James R. S. Haultain, McBride appointed himself as agent-general in London, and subsequently displaced J. H. Turner, who was then the incumbent.

The bill amending the game act will be appointed to act in the meantime, or until a permanent minister is appointed to the post.

On April 15, 1915, he was given a special mandate to represent the province in London, and to act as agent-general to compensate for his dismissal.

The government has agreed to give him several thousand dollars extra in income, and tax rates to Great Britain.

It is stated that the new act will be appointed to act in the meantime, and that it will at the same time displace any claim which Mr. Turner may have to compensation for his dismissal.

The Canadian government has strongly held and was hard to hand fighting. The objective of this little raid was to capture the British fort "D'Yerme" during the past week, but the results which came the enemy on the 25th, or in our own vigilance.

For the most important of the raids made our men were divided into parties each with its own objectives. None of them failed in their mission, and the British fort was strongly held and was hard to hand fighting.

"DRYS" ADMIT THAT THEY ARE DEFEATED

Will Ask B. C. Government For Prohibition During War Period

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

VICTORIA, March 28.—Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia in London, where the delegation on production in the International Nickel Company contains an official admission by the president that all sorts of irregularities occurred including reporters, personal friends and others.

The president said: "I do not think that for this reason they were badly treated by their officers. Not only was there a general pattern of malfeasance, but they were given double trouble by their unwise policies."

On another day a small party of stamping reported in broad daylight to raid one of our posts situated in a certain part of the country, and a few known assailants and ended in a hurried retreat to their own lines.

Small events which disclose the unscrupulousness of the Drys are of fairly frequent occurrence.

One morning "Dry" Mr. G. E. Turner, our trench in the rear of the dawn, the regulars were out and the Drys were in. That for this reason they were badly treated by their officers. Not only was there a general pattern of malfeasance, but they were given double trouble by their unwise policies."

DISMISSED FROM SERVICE

LONDON, Mar. 28.—(C.A.P.)—Be sentence of court martial, Lieut. W. A. Loomis of the American Corps, has been dismissed from the service.

In the pursuit of the Germans in their big retreat upon the west front British cavalry got a chance for the first time since the Mons retreat. British cavalry pressed the retreating Germans with vim, and took many prisoners.

ACT GIVING VOTES TO SOLDIERS PASSES IN THE LEGISLATURE; OPPOSITION WANTS CHANGE

T. M. Tweedie Moves Amendments That Members of Overseas Forces Be Allowed to Vote in Their Own Ridings—Government Supporters Point Out That Proposed Act is Better—Game Act Is Amended—Restrictions Placed on Duck Hunters.

The bill for the representation of the act for raising money on the present war was read a third time and passed in the legislature yesterday afternoon. The following day an amendment proposed by T. M. Tweedie, member for Victoria, was introduced, and instead of the two members large to be elected by the soldiers and sailors, the members of the measure, those overseas should be entitled to elect one member in the district in which he was residing at the last general election in Australia, and the same would be rejected by 24 votes to 12.

A. P. Fawcett, a member of the provincial treasurer, gave notice that would move Thursday the house into committee to amend the act to provide for the guaranteeing by the province of certain borrowings respecting the proposed indefinitely extending the existing act to cover all cases of emergency.

The bill amending the game act was referred by 24 votes to 12.

A. P. Fawcett, in seconding the amendment, said that the soldiers and sailors should be entitled to vote in the same way as the members of the house.

He said that was the right to partake in the general election just the same as if they were here.

Mr. Fawcett, in concluding his speech, said that the soldiers and sailors should be entitled to vote in the same way as the members of the house.

The Effects of Opium.

WHAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the most delicate of infants the opium and its derivatives have a depressing action on the functions of the body which are likely to become permanent, causing insanity and mental perversity in later life.

Nervous disorders as insomnias, fits, convulsions, etc., are produced by a dose of opium or morphine to keep children quiet while we are trying to get them to sleep.

THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1917

The City Council have decided to lease the city's prison farm, if satisfactory terms are obtainable. That appears to be an eminently sensible thing to do. The reports published in the papers have shown that we have put up a large amount of money in the concern as capital outlay, and that the cost of running it has amounted to anything up to sixteen thousand dollars a year. The farm, of course, was not started with a view to making money, but of providing a place of recuperation for drunks, and a sort of out-door prison for other offenders in general. How far the expense has been justified by results has never been established with clearness. But police reports show that there has been a heavy falling off in the last year in the number of inmates and other offenders for whom the city has to provide accommodation. Unless the farm could thus be run at a profit, it would be sheer waste to lock up these unconvicted guests than to continue to provide them with the comforts of a country residence. That, presumably, is a point on which the children satisfied themselves, and a fact which had to do with the decision arrived at.

Orders have been issued to recruit two and a half thousand men for the standing army in Canada. It is unfortunate that recruiting for this force is not confined to those sections of the country which have failed to prove their due proportion of men for service where there is fighting to be done. It so occurs that the province which has responded the most readily to the call for recruits is also the province where the recruits are required to carry on farm work and other necessary operations. To recruit battalions of homesteaders from Edmonton and Calgary will without fail displease most men who otherwise would form a reserve of labor for use in the fields in seeding and harvest time. If the home guards bathe time were wasted in provinces where men will not volunteer for overseas service, and where the need of farm laborers is less vital, there would be less interference with the carrying on of the "basic industries" which are so closely related to the needs of the country at this time. Can it be that the young men of the "slacker" districts would not enlist even for camping out parties in Canada?

RESULTS AS RESULT OF CLASH WITH R. B.

Col. Marlow, Who Complained About Treatment of Returned Soldiers Quits Medical Service.

Toronto, Mar. 28.—The resignation of Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, in placing at the disposal of Col. Marlow, who has been the machinery of the Government to fight the coal merchants who are taking advantage of the secret to extort extravagant prices from the people, the act of real government. The duty of the Government is to protect the people, of whom the ministers are the elected representatives." What he means is that he vigilantly discharges this high duty by graciously refraining from preventing the Montreal council prosecuting the coal merchants, whom he is paid to prosecute but refuses to prosecute.

A man cannot be maintained on active service in Canada at a cost of more than two thousand dollars to the Government for pay and keep. The proposed standing army of fifty thousand home guards would cost the country, at this minimum rate, about twenty million dollars a day, or twenty million dollars for the summer. There are a good many more imperative calls for the money than spending it in building up a army to repel rebellions and repel invasions neither of which are at all likely to occur, and either of which could be met by calling on the militia units when the occasion demands.

In the report of Dr. Shortt's address at the Macdonald hotel appearing in The Morning Bulletin of Tuesday, a suggestion was made that the purpose of recruiting the force of the proposed civil service system was to be away with the patronage practice. That is rather queer in either. Mr. Smith is and has been a staunch and consistent advocate of the abolition of patronage, and the establishment of merit as the qualification for public service. His questions were designed to bring out facts, not to convey criticism.

The local Council of Women, by a vote of 100 to 10, on March 10, eight, has gone on record as favoring compulsory military service. The resolution shows that the women of the city are as deeply concerned in the safety of their country as are the men, and that they have voluntarily responded to the call of King and country more readily than those of any other province. This resolution, noted well, it would mean that the "slacker" provinces would be required to furnish their proportionate contingents before more men were required from Alberta. That would not have been the thought of the women in passing the resolution but it is a fact worthy of consideration.

A Royal Commission appointed under authority of the Ontario Legislature has made a report on the subject of nickel deposits in that province, the possibilities of development in the process and other matters relating to the subject. The Commission explains that it was not its purpose to investigate the question whether or not the bulk of the output of the Ontario field is from foreign sources. Germany since the war began having exised themselves from investigating the one point of immediate importance, the report of the Commissioners may be taken as not of any great concern, and one showing that nickel can be refined in Ontario as well as in the United States, and that twenty-five per cent. of the nickel of the International Trust is held in Germany and another large percentage in the United States, perhaps by German agents.

Purchase of Lot.

To the Legal Department: A man who has just come to town from the country, and who has no relatives here, has sold his house and moved out. Could A. H. Smith tell him what to do?

SUBSCRIPTIONS. City. It, in the aggregate, is not a bad lot, A. H. Smith was not especially excited over it, but he did say, "Well, I would go to town, and would go to a tenement, but at first he would go to a one room, and then when he got to him by a sturdy son of a gun."

"My man," said the magistrate, in his usual blunt way, "you are willing to fight for your King and country."

"I heart, sir," was the prompt reply. "I am a patriot at you know, and I am willing to do my best for my country, and you said in your wretched letter, as far as I can see, next month you yourself if I had not been here, I would have been compelled to leave the country again."

"I am a patriot, and I am willing to do my best for my country, and you said in your wretched letter, as far as I can see, next month you yourself if I had not been here, I would have been compelled to leave the country again."

THE PREPAREDNESS. Washington, March 28.—Orders were issued today by the war department calling all National Guard units into the service, and mobilized them into the Federal service.

In the last two years before the war over 10,000 ships were lost.

Triple Entente.

To the Bulletin: How old is the triple entente between Great Britain, France and Russia?

T. S. C. City.

The Triple Entente between Great Britain and France was formed in 1904.

After the Anglo-French convention of 1904 settling disputes as to Egypt, Morocco and the Suez Canal, the Triple Entente convention of 1907 settling disputes as to Persia, Mesopotamia and the Persian Gulf developed into the Triple Entente of 1908, between Great Britain, France and Russia.

On August 14, 1914, after Germany had declared war on Russia, Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary, and his officials, stated in the House of Commons that the Triple Entente was now a diplomatic alliance.

Preserving Skin.

To the Bulletin: What is the best way to preserve the skin of small animals?

W. R. G. City.

To preserve the skin of small animals, take the skin fresh and immerse

it in a solution of salt.

To ascertain when dressed envelope, twice, and press it firmly before it is dried.

When it is dry, immerse it just a little in water, then wash it out.

When the skin is dry, wash it again, then dip it in a solution of borax, and scratch the flesh with a sharp stone. The skin will then be as new as a new glove.
